

Bridging the Gap

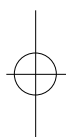

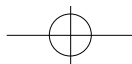

Bridging the Gap
Between College and Law School
Strategies for Success

Ruta K. Stropus & Charlotte D. Taylor

Carolina Academic Press
Durham, North Carolina

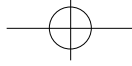

Copyright © 2001
Ruta K. Stropus and Charlotte D. Taylor
All rights reserved.

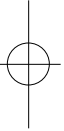

ISBN 0-89089-945-2
LCCN 00-110716

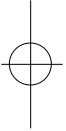

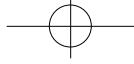

Carolina Academic Press
700 Kent Street
Durham, North Carolina 27701
Telephone (919) 489-7486
Fax (919) 493-5668
E-mail: cap@cap-press.com
www.cap-press.com

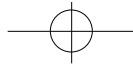

Printed in the United States of America.

*This book is dedicated to our fathers.
You loved us and taught us and brought us together to teach others.*

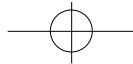

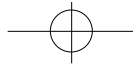

Contents

Acknowledgments	xi
About the Authors	xiii
Introduction	xv
How Does Bridging The Gap Integrate the General and Specific?	xv
What Can I Gain From Using This Book?	xvii
Chapter 1 The Law School Experience	3
The History	3
The Customs	5
Packing for Your Trip	7
What to Bring	8
Preparing for Rough Terrain	11
Getting Around	12
Avoiding Tourist Traps	14
Traveler's Advisory	14
Chapter 2 Learning to Read and Brief Law School Cases	17
Reading in College	17
Reading in Law School	18
Things You Need to Know Before Reading Your First Case	19
Learning the Language	23
Reading Tips and Techniques	27
Briefing Tips and Techniques—FIRAC	30
Sample Case and Case Brief	36
Chapter 3 Effective Notetaking in Law School	41
Difference Between Notes in College and Notes in Law School	41
Dos and Don'ts for Taking Notes	42
Sample Class Discussion	45

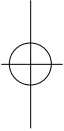

Chapter 4 Putting it Together, Part One: Synthesis	53
Synthesis in College	53
Synthesis in Law School	54
Why Hide the Directions?	55
What is Synthesis?	55
Tips on Synthesis	56
Synthesis Exercises	61
Chapter 5 Putting It Together, Part Two: The Role of the Law School Outline	65
What is an Outline?	65
What are the Different Kinds of Outlines?	66
What Kind of Outline Should I Use — Commercial or Homemade?	66
What Should a Good Outline Include?	68
How to Make Your Own Outline	68
Additional Tips on Outlining: Open Book v. Closed Book Exams	73
Outlining Exercises	74
Chapter 6 Putting It Together, Part Three: Flowcharting	79
What is a Flowchart?	79
Do I Have to Create Both a Flowchart and an Outline?	80
How Do I Know if a Flowchart Will Help Me?	80
What are the Different Types of Flowcharts?	80
What Should a Good Flowchart Include?	82
How to Make Your Own Flowchart	83
Other Alternatives	88
Final Thoughts	89
Sample Flowcharts	89
Chapter 7 Law School Examinations	97
What Should I Expect on My Law School Exams?	97
Why Am I Being Tested This Way?	99
How Does the Exam Relate to Class Discussion?	99
Different Types of Law School Exams	99
Issue-spotting	100
Analysis	101
Policy-oriented	101

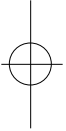

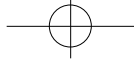

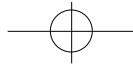

Contents

ix

Chapter 8 Tips on Exam Preparation	103
Process of Problem Solving	103
IRAC for Examinations	103
Tips for Different Exam Formats	109
What to Do During an Essay Examination	113
Exam Exercises	121
Chapter 9 Time Management Skills	127
What Works for You?	127
How Do You Study?	127
When Do You Study Best?	128
Where Do You Study Best?	128
Organizing Your Study Schedule	129
Scheduling Tips for Part-Time Students	135
Setting Realistic Goals	135
Chapter 10 Additional Strategies for Success	137
What to Do When Life Gets in the Way of Law School	137
Where to Go For Help	139
What's the Problem?	142
Last Words of Advice	155
Appendix	157
Index	181

Acknowledgments

This book would not be possible without the help, love, and dedication of many wonderful people, including Cathaleen A. Roach, who served as a role model and a mentor to both of us.

We would also like to thank the following people who made this book possible:

Our colleagues:
Andrea Kaufman
Kenneth A. Rosenblum
Susan Thrower

Thanks for your many suggestions and comments and for reading our draft and returning it on such short notice.

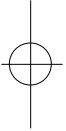

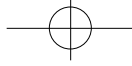

Dan Ursini
For inspiring us to keep our dream of publishing this book alive.

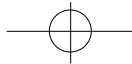

Our research assistants:

You have helped us in more ways than we can recall and kept us working, even when we did not want to.

Francis Cermak, DePaul University College of Law Class of 2000
James Derry, DePaul University College of Law Class of 2001
Tracy Hamm, DePaul University College of Law Class of 2000
Mike Isroff, DePaul University College of Law Class of 2001
Robert Sabetto, DePaul University College of Law Class of 2002
Shannon Verner, DePaul University College of Law Class of 1999

We would also like to express our thanks to the Dean of DePaul University College of Law, Teree E. Foster, for her continuing support of the Academic Support Program and of our research for this book.

About the Authors

Ruta Stropus is the Assistant Dean for Educational Services and Director of the Academic Support Program at DePaul University College of Law. She previously developed and served as the director of the Academic Support Program at Northern Illinois University, College of Law. She received both her undergraduate degree (summa cum laude, 1986) and her law degree (1989) from Loyola University of Chicago. After graduating law school she practiced in litigation with McDermott, Will and Emery, and Sachnoff & Weaver, Ltd, two prestigious law firms in Chicago. She has previously published a law review article addressing concerns about the current trends in legal education titled Mend It, Bend It, and Extend It: The Fate of Traditional Law School Methodology in the 21st Century. 27 Loy. L.J. 449 (1996).

Charlotte Taylor is the Assistant Dean for Multicultural Affairs at DePaul University College of Law. She previously served as the Assistant Director of the Academic Support Program at DePaul University College of Law. She received her undergraduate degree (1992) from Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois and her law degree (1996) from DePaul University College of Law. After graduating law school she practiced insurance defense with the law firm of Greene & Letts in Chicago.

