Acknowledgments

I wish to thank my research assistants Jackie Halpern, Danny Gershburg, and Carra Greenberg for their impeccable work, their willingness to always help, their time, and their good humor, and my faculty assistant Joelen Grant, for her herculean work (far beyond the call-of-duty) in helping produce the final draft of this manuscript. I also wish to thank New York Law School Dean Richard Matasar and Associate Dean Stephen Ellmann for their support and encouragement, and for granting me the sabbatical that allowed me to do the research for this work. (MLP)

I wish to thank Wendy Scott, Associate Director of Faculty Services at the Barclay Law Library, Syracuse University College of Law for her research assistance, my wonderful and thorough student research assistants, Nevhiz Calik (SUCOL ’05), Julie Morse (SUCOL ’05), Tarini Arogyaswamy (SUCOL ’06), and Eric Rosenthal, Executive Director of Mental Disability Rights International for his work in bringing our attention to these issues. (ASK)

I am especially grateful to my current research assistant Gonzaga third year law student Anne McLaughlin for her enthusiasm about the subject matter, her hard work, and her diligent attention to detail. I appreciate the in-depth background research provided by 2005 Gonzaga graduate and attorney Delian Deltchev who worked cheerfully with only limited guidance and oversight in the initial phases of this project. Finally, I am indebted to my faculty assistant Robbie McMillian, for her nonpareil ability to handle everything with grace. (MPT)

My thanks to Sean Kilpatrick for his research assistance, and to Robbie McMillian for her extensive work in creating a supplement to this casebook which is certain to be an invaluable resource for students and mental disability rights advocates around the world. My appreciation to Rod Wellens, Eric Rosenthal, and Michael Perlin, for their mentorship over the years, and Mary Pat Treuthart for her support and encouragement during this project. And finally, my deepest gratitude to Moylan Ryan, for simply being himself. (ES)
