

Community Economic Development Law

Community Economic Development Law

A Text for Engaged Learning

Susan D. Bennett

Washington College of Law, American University

Brenda Bratton Blom

University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law

Louise A. Howells

David A. Clarke School of Law, University of the District of Columbia

Deborah S. Kenn

Syracuse University College of Law

CAROLINA ACADEMIC PRESS
Durham, North Carolina

Copyright © 2012
Carolina Academic Press
All Rights Reserved

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Community economic development law : a text for engaged learning / Susan D. Bennett ... [et al.].

p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 978-1-59460-818-6 (alk. paper)

1. City planning and redevelopment law--Law and legislation--United States. 2. Community development--Law and legislation--United States. I. Bennett, Susan D. II. Title.

KF5730.C584 2011

346.7304'5--dc23

2011029525

Carolina Academic Press
700 Kent Street
Durham, North Carolina 27701
Telephone (919) 489-7486
Fax (919) 493-5668
www.cap-press.com

Cover photo credits, clockwise from upper left: Aerial photo of older neighborhood © trekandshoot/istockphoto; rowhouses © rSnapshotPhotos/shutterstock; construction worker © Nenov Brothers Photography/shutterstock; city skyline © Bonnie Schupp/istockphoto; children playing in fountain © Marilyn Nieves/istockphoto; bank © brinkstock/shutterstock; neighborhood grocery © Chee-Onn Leong/shutterstock; city hall sign © tillsonburg/istockphoto.

Printed in the United States of America

To Jace, who has endured much: love and thanks
SDB

To John, Joe, Ruth, Bryan, Jacob, Mia, Cesar, and Ayana.
My thanks. My love. My hope.
BBB

For Alexander, Andrew, and Sandy, with love
LAH

For the twenty plus years of clinic students who have enriched my life more than they could ever imagine. Thank you.
DSK

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	xix
Prologue · The Chronicle of Milkweed Park	3
A. Milkweed Park 1860–1950: The Mill Town Approaches Mid-Century	3
B. Milkweed Park, 1950–1975: Structural Transformation and the Cost of Good Intentions	6
C. Milkweed Park, 1975–2000: Urban Renewal Policy Shifts from Top-Down to Local and Grass Roots Initiatives	8
D. Today’s Milkweed Park	12
1. Current demographics: The New Urban Pioneers; the Country’s Changing Mood after 9-11	12
2. Economic Development and Employment in Milkweed Park	13
3. Housing in Milkweed Park	15
4. The Status of Public Primary and Secondary Education in Milkweed Park	16
5. The Foreseeable Future of Development in Milkweed Park	17
Dramatis Personae: The People and the Institutions of Milkweed Park and Homewood	18
1. Families and Residents	18
2. The Educators and Educational Institutions	22
3. The Community-Based Civic Institutions	23
4. The Community-Based Nonprofit Organizations	25
5. The Community-Based Financial Institutions	26
6. The Community-Based Development Institutions and Entities	26
7. The Community-Based Religious Institutions	27
8. The Community-Based and other Legal Service Providers	27
9. The Entrepreneurs and Businesses	28
10. Ourfuture City	29
a. Governing Institutions and Agencies	29
b. The Police Department	29
c. Office of the Public Defender for Ourfuture City	29
d. Office of the State’s Attorney for Ourfuture City	30
e. Office of the State Department of Parole and Probation for Ourfuture City	30

f. Regional Financial Institutions Based in Ourfuture City and in Milkweed Park	30
g. Entrepreneurs and Other Residents from Outside Milkweed Park	30
Chapter 1 · Introduction to Community Development Lawyering	33
A. Community-Centered Advocacy	34
B. Goals for Representation	35
C. The Client	36
D. The Approach	38
1. Traditional Transactional Approach	38
2. Organizing Approach	39
3. Problem Solving Approach	39
E. How This Book Works	40
Chapter 1 - The Problem(s) You Face	41
Chapter 1 - Your Toolbox	42
The Client	42
The Law	42
The Documents	42
The Allies	42
The Opposition	42
Other Legal Resources	43
Non-Legal Resources	43
Chapter 2 · Legal and Organizational Structures	45
Actors in Chapter 2	45
A. Introduction	45
B. Choice of Entity: For-Profit or Not-For-Profit?	49
C. For-Profit Entities	52
1. Sole Proprietorship	52
2. General Partnerships	52
3. Limited Partnerships	54
4. Limited Liability Partnerships	55
5. Limited Liability Limited Partnerships	56
6. Limited Liability Company	56
7. Corporations	58
8. C or S Corporation	59
9. Worker Cooperatives	59
10. Further Considerations	60
D. Not-For-Profit Entities	61
1. Introduction	61
2. Charitable Trust Creation	62
3. Not-for-Profit Incorporation	63
4. Federal Tax Exemption	68
a. Introduction	68
b. Private Foundation versus Public Charity Status	71
c. Unrelated Business Taxable Income	78
d. For-Profit Subsidiaries	81
e. Joint Ventures	82
f. Fiscal Sponsorship Agreements	82

g. Other important 501(c) Organizations	84
i. 501(c)(4) Tax exemption	84
ii. 501(c)(6) tax exemption	85
iii. 501(c)(7) tax exemption	86
iv. 501(c)(2) tax exemption	86
5. Not-For-Profit Corporations Unique to Community Development Work	87
a. Community Development Corporations	87
b. Community Land Trusts	88
c. Organizations promoting social entrepreneurship	89
Chapter 2 Comprehensive Problem	91
Toolbox Collaborators	91
Further Consideration: Taxation of For-Profit Business Entities	92
Further Consideration: Building Youth Entrepreneurs	99
Chapter 3 · Access to Wealth and Wellbeing in Low-Wealth Communities	105
Actors in Chapter 3	105
Part I. Introduction	106
A. Community Economic Development Law Practice	106
B. Community Economic Development: Our Domestic Approach	107
1. The Inconclusive Results of Past Economic Development Initiatives	107
2. Parameters for Today’s Federal Economic Development Programs: Policy, Presumptions, and Practices	109
a. Federal Policy, Local Implementation, Citizen Participation	109
b. Private Sector Initiatives	110
c. Geographic Targets based on Conditions and Income Distribution	111
d. The Focus on Physical Solutions to Problems of Poverty	111
e. Support for Small Business	112
f. Addressing Discrimination	112
Part II. Access to Capital Resources, Investment Opportunities, Tax Credit Financing, and Grants	112
A. Travails of Mulligan Asphalt: A Small Business Attempts to Raise Capital in the Publicly Traded Capital Market	113
1. Your Client	113
2. Background on the Capital Market	113
3. Traversing the Regulations and Exemptions in Registering Security Issues	114
a. Purely Private and Intrastate Offers	114
b. Regulation A	115
c. Regulation D: the SEC Registration Exemptions	115
i. Rule 504	115
ii. Rule 505. Non-Accredited and Accredited Purchasers and the Integration Rule	116
iii. Rule 506 and Sophisticated Purchasers	116
iv. Federal Preemption	117
B. The Community Art Place Community Investment Fund: Low-Wealth Investors and Securities Regulation	118
1. Your Client	118
2. The Community Investment Fund and Securities Law	119

3. State Regulation of the Community Investment Fund	120
a. Securities Registration at the State Level	120
b. Merit Reviews	121
C. Building Community Art Place with Tax Incentives: The New Markets Tax Credit Program	122
1. The NMTC Financing Plan for Community Art Place	122
2. Background for Tax Incentives and the New Markets Tax Credit Program	123
a. Tax credits	123
b. The Specifics of the NMTC Program	124
i. Community Development Entities	124
ii. The Investment Process	125
3. The Use of a Leveraged Fund for Community Art Place	126
D. Public Funding with Tax Exempt Bonds and Grants	127
1. Tax Exempt Bond Financing for Public and Private Improvements	127
2. State and Local Tax Exempt Bonds (Municipal Bonds)	128
3. Bond Financing for the Street, Sidewalks, and Splash Fountains	129
4. Private Activity Bond Funding as an Option for Community Art Place Company's Private Property	130
a. Small-Issue bonds	130
b. 501(c)(3) Bonds	130
E. Using CDBG Funds for Economic Development and Environmental Cleanup	132
1. Your Client	132
2. Community Development Block Grants	132
a. Consolidated Plans and Public Participation	133
b. CDBG: Permissible Activities and National Objectives	133
3. CDBG Section 108 Possibilities for Clean-up	134
Part III. Capital Resources for Small Businesses	135
A. J&S Lead Abatement Services and the Private Venture Capital Market	135
1. Your Client	135
2. Venture Capital	136
a. Regulation of the venture capital industry	137
b. Deal Terms	138
3. The Small Business Investment Company Program (SBIC Program)	139
a. Small Business Investment Program	139
b. Encouraging Investment in Smaller Enterprises and Low-Income Areas	141
B. SBA Guaranteed Loans and SBA Procurement Preferences	142
1. SBA Funded Technical Assistance	143
2. SBA Loan Program	143
3. Capitalizing with Contracts: the Section 8(a) Program	146
Part IV. Financial Services Targeted to Low-Wealth and Underserved Communities: Alternative Financial Services, Community Banks, the CDFI Fund, the Community Reinvestment Act, and Financial Service Access Programs	148
A. Banking in the United States	148
1. Returning to Anna Delgado and Others Like Her	148
2. Banking and Banking Regulation	148
3. Alternative Financial Services	149
4. Addressing Anna's Banking Needs	151

a. The Banking Industry Response	152
b. The Advocate's Role in a Regulatory Issue: Comments and Conflicts	152
B. Community Reinvestment Act	154
1. A CRA Question for your Subcommittee Work	154
2. The CRA	154
3. The Strategic Value of the CRA for the Community Economic Development Lawyer	157
4. Underwriting and Financial Institution Engagement in the Low-income Community	157
C. Establishing Banking Services in the Low-Wealth Community (Community Development Banks, Credit Unions, Community Development Financial Institutions)	158
1. A Community Development Bank in Milkweed Park?	158
a. What Is a Community Development Bank?	159
b. Establishing a Community Development Bank for Milkweed Park	159
2. Community and Low-Income Credit Unions	160
a. Your Client: The Milkweed Park Federal Cooperative Credit Union	160
b. The Regulation and Structure of Federal Credit Unions	160
c. Low-income Credit Unions	162
3. Community Development Financial Institution Fund	162
a. A Milkweed Park Applicant for the CDFI Fund	162
b. The CDFI Program	163
c. Community Development Loan Funds	163
d. Certifying as a CDFI	164
Part V. Conclusion: Defining Benchmarks for Economic Progress	165
A. Conventional Measures of Economic Progress	166
B. Identifying an Informational Base for Defining Outcomes	167
1. Benchmarks in economic development programs	167
2. New Approaches	168
Chapter 3 Toolbox	170
The Clients	170
Books	170
Documents	170
Banking and banking regulation	170
Current Practice Issues	171
Policy and Research	171
Further Consideration: The Importance of Microenterprise Development in Community Economic Development Law	172
Further Consideration: Immigrant Entrepreneurs — Contributions and Challenges	179
Chapter 4 · Affordable Housing	185
Actors in Chapter 4	185
Part I. The History	186
Part II. Housing Structures	191
A. Homeownership	191
B. Rental Housing	193

C. Condominiums	195
D. Cooperatives	196
E. Limited Equity Cooperatives	197
Part III. Federal Housing Assistance Programs for Families and Individuals	198
A. Section 8 Housing Assistance (Tenant-based)	199
B. Public Housing	201
C. Housing for People with Disabilities and People Who Are Elderly	203
D. Transitional Shelters for People Who Are Homeless	204
Part IV. Preserving and Developing Housing in Milkweed Park	206
A. Introduction	206
1. Concerns about the Loss of Affordable Housing in Milkweed Park	206
2. Affordability and Housing Subsidies	207
B. Mortgage Market Supports	209
1. Rodham Gardens, the Progeny of the Government Supported Enterprises in the Secondary Mortgage Market	209
2. FHA Multifamily Mortgage Insurance Programs	210
a. Rodham Gardens and Section 207 Mortgage Insurance	210
b. Rodham Gardens: Unaffordable and in Need of Rent Subsidies (Rent Supplement, Section 236 and Section 8)	211
C. Rodham Gardens and Happy Creek Towers: Maintaining and Preserving the Housing Stock in the Deep Subsidy Programs	212
1. Rodham Gardens and New Beginnings: Project-based Section 8	213
a. Year 1982: Section 8 Revitalizes Rodham Garden and Makes It Affordable	213
b. Rodham Gardens: The Present and Questionable Future	214
i. The End of the HAP Contract Term	214
ii. MAHRA: the Federal Response to Soaring Costs and the Impending Loss of Section 8 Units	215
2. Preserving Public Housing in Milkweed Park with HOPE VI	216
a. Public Housing Funding in Ourfuture City	216
b. Development under Hope VI in Milkweed Park	217
3. Happy Creek Towers: Tax Credit Financing	219
a. LIHTC Background	219
b. Redevelopment of Happy Creek with LIHTC	220
D. Robinson Manor: A Case Study for Local Funds and Alternative Ideas	222
1. CDBG and HOME	223
a. Community Development Block Grant Assistance for Housing	223
b. HOME Investment Partnerships Program	224
2. Tax Exempt Housing Bonds	225
3. Alternative Funding Concepts	226
a. Sustainable Sources: Trust Funds	226
b. New Financial Ownership Structures: Small Properties Real Estate Investment Trusts	227
Chapter 4 Toolbox	229
The Clients	229
Developing Affordable Housing	229
Documents	229
Foreclosure and Population Loss	230

Homebuyers	230
Fair Housing	230
Landlord Tenant Matters	231
Policy and Research	231
Further Consideration: Painting Affordable Housing Green	232
Further Consideration: Recent Transformations of Public Housing Policy	240
Chapter 5 · Land Use	245
Actors in Chapter 5	245
Part I. An Introduction to Community Control of the Uses of Land	246
A. Explaining the Use of “Land Use” in a Text about Advocacy in Community Development	246
B. The Organization of This Chapter	247
Part II. Why Ourfuture City Looks the Way It Does: Charting the Visible and Invisible Maps of Land Use	247
Part III. Articulating Our Community Clients’ Interests in Land Use	249
A. Reviewing the Community-Based Actors	249
Community Associations	249
Community Based Organizations, Nonprofit Organizations Addressing Special Needs, Small Businesses, Faith-Based Organizations	250
Community Development Organizations	250
Tenants’ Organizations	250
Employees	251
Youth and/or Schools	251
Cooperative Associations	251
Condominium Owners and/or Associations	251
Homeowners’ Associations	252
B. Expanding the Cast of Characters: Institutional Actors	252
The City Council	252
Planning Boards/Offices of Planning	252
Planning Commissions/Zoning Commissions	253
The Board of Zoning Adjustment/Board of Zoning Appeals	253
Other Local, State, or Federal Adjudicative Agencies and Courts	253
C. Expanding the Cast of Characters: Local and National Development Entities	254
The Developer	254
The Intermediaries	254
D. Ethics of Representation in Land Use Advocacy	255
Part IV. A Quick Introduction to Some Strategies: Finding the Advocacy Opportunities in Community Struggles over Public and Private Land Use Decisions	257
A. Advocacy Opportunities: Seeking Remedies Through Enforcement or Manipulation of the Existing Land Use Map	258
1. Representing individual small businesses or other community-based organizations to meet an immediate development need	258
2. Representing individual small businesses or other community-based organizations (individually or in coalitions) to block approval of other businesses’ or organizations’ petitions to zoning boards for approval of an activity or of construction or renovation	258

B. Advocacy Opportunities: Seeking Remedies Through Challenges to the Legitimacy of the Existing Land Use Map	259
Representing group clients and individual clients in coalitions, or representing coalitions, in challenges to land use laws that violate state or federal constitutions or the federal Fair Housing Act	259
C. Advocacy Opportunities: Seeking Remedies Through Modifications in the Existing Land Use Map	260
1. Representing individual small businesses or other community-based organizations in petitions on their own behalf to amend the boundaries or classifications in the zoning map	260
2. Representing individual small businesses or other community-based organizations in advocacy to support, oppose, or amend other parties' petitions to amend the boundaries or classifications in the zoning map	260
3. Representing individual group clients as part of a coalition, or representing coalitions, to affect a particular development in proceedings before zoning commissions or before zoning boards of appeal	261
4. Representing individual group clients, group clients as part of a coalition, or a coalition, in legislative or administrative advocacy to change the zoning regime to promote equitable development	261
Part V. Neighbor to Neighbor: Private Land Use Controls	261
A. Reviewing the Basics: Principles of Servitudes: Easements, Real Covenants, and Servitudes	262
B. Finding Advocacy Opportunities in Private Land Use Controls	263
1. Fighting Exclusivity	263
2. Promoting Inclusivity: Affordability Covenants	263
3. Preserving Cultural and Environmental Legacies	264
Part VI. Public Land Use Controls: Zoning	266
A. Reviewing the Basics: the Roots of Euclidean Zoning	266
1. Zoning's Roots in the Definition of the Police Power to Promote the Public Welfare	266
2. Zoning's Roots in the Ascendancy of Planning	268
3. Zoning's Roots in Race	268
B. Loosening Zoning's Procrustean Frame: Individual Departures from the Strictures of the Codes	269
1. Special exceptions	270
2. Variances and allowances for nonconforming uses	270
3. Development agreements	271
4. Stretching the Rigidity of Zoning on a Larger Scale: The Community-Based Potential of Planned Unit Developments (PUDS) and Other Strategies	274
C. Challenging the Framework	275
1. Identifying and Countering Expulsive and Exclusionary Zoning	275
2. Asserting rights to land use as religious expression	279
D. Changing the framework	280
1. Promoting Inclusivity Through Participation: Citizens' Involvement in Rewriting the Comprehensive Plan and the Zoning Code	280
2. Promoting Inclusivity Through Campaigns for Inclusionary Zoning and Exactions	281

3. Exploitation or Commemoration: Designating Historic and Cultural Districts	283
Part VII. Navigating the Takings Muddle: An Explanation of Why the Expedition Is Worthwhile	286
A. Physical Takings, a.k.a. Eminent Domain: From Slums and Blight to the “Little Pink House”	287
B. Regulatory Takings: Reviewing the Basics: Explaining the Distinction between Exactions and Takings	293
Chapter Five Toolbox	298
Bill 201X- 5, The Required Notice to Community of Submission of Application Act of 201X	298
Ourfuture City Ordinance 2006-19: The Illegal Alien Relief Act of 2006	299
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 105: Zone Districts: Summary	300
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 108: Zone Districts: “R” Residential	301
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 203: HOME OCCUPATION (R-2)	304
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 300: Mixed Use Zone Districts: “SP” Special Purpose; “CR” Commercial/Residential	307
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 400: Manufacturing/Industrial Districts	308
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 500: Waterfront Districts	309
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 2000: Nonconforming Uses	310
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 2401: Planned Unit Developments	311
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 3010: Zoning Commission: Contested Cases and Rulemaking	314
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 3103: Variances	315
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 3104: Special Exceptions	316
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 3106: Appearance and Representation	319
Ourfuture City Code of Zoning Regulations Section 3115: Neighborhood Advisory Council (NAC)	321
Further Consideration: Community Benefits Agreements	322
Chapter 6 · Community Justice	335
Actors in Chapter 6	335
A. Introduction	336
1. Democracy as the Key to Transformation	338
2. Building a Common Community Justice Vision	338
B. The Context Is Key	339
1. The Criminalization of Poverty	339
2. The Effects of Criminalization and Over-Incarceration on Low-Income Communities	343

C. How Do We Experience These Phenomena in Community Economic Development Work?	346
1. The Economy	347
a. The Informal Economy	347
b. Services	347
c. Goods	347
d. The Illicit Economy	348
2. Gangs	348
a. Gangs and Economics	349
b. Gangs and Families	349
c. Gangs and Prisons	350
3. Drugs	351
4. Guns	352
5. Prostitution	353
D. Building Community Justice	354
1. The Tools For Reclaiming Our Space	355
a. Code Enforcement	355
b. Basic Code Enforcement	355
c. Property and Public Space	356
i. Grime	356
ii. Vacant Property	357
iii. Lead	358
iv. Vacant Land	358
2. The Tools for Responding to Economic Disorder	360
a. Bars and Liquor Stores	360
b. Loitering	361
c. Drugs	361
i. Drug nuisance	361
ii. Organizing to take back our space	362
3. Tools for Dispute Resolution	363
a. Restorative Justice	363
b. Community Conferencing	364
c. Alternative Dispute Centers and Programs	364
d. Youth Courts	365
4. Quasi-Judicial and Complete Diversion	365
a. Youth Courts	365
b. Community Panels	365
5. Problem Solving Courts and Diversionary/Rehabilitative Initiatives	366
a. Problem Solving Courts	366
i. Community Courts	367
ii. Drug Courts	368
iii. Mental Health Courts	368
iv. Quality of Life Courts	369
b. Community Justice Centers	369
6. Tools for Reclaiming Our People	371
a. Re-entry Centers	371
b. Efforts at Coordinated Re-entry through Parole and Probation	371
c. Transitional Housing	372
E. Building an Integrated Strategy that Builds Democracy	373

Chapter 6 — The Problem(s) You Face	375
Problem One	375
Problem Two	375
Problem Three	376
Chapter 6 — Your Toolbox	377
The Client	377
The Allies	377
The Opposition	377
The Documents	377
Other Legal Resources	377
Non-Legal Resources	378
The Law	378
City and County Codes	378
Statutes for Ourfuture City	379
A. Property Based Nuisance Statutes	379
1. Vacant Building Receivership — Ourfuture City	379
2. Abatement of nuisance; dangerous substances in Ourfuture City	382
B. State Criminal Law and Statutes	386
1. Prostitution	386
2. Gangs	389
3. Drugs	391
C. Statutes that Affect the Rights of Children and Youth	391
1. Schools and Violence	391
2. Charter Schools	391
D. Statutes That Affect the Rights of Those Who Have Been Incarcerated	391
E. State Law that Establishes and Provides Jurisdictional Guidance on Courts	391
Further Consideration: Stronger Neighborhoods through City Gardens, Farms, and Food	392
Further Consideration: Community Arts and Justice	398
Epilogue	403
Milkweed Park in 2050	403
Afterword	407
Appendices	409
Bibliography	417
Contributors	423
Table of Authorities	425
Chronicle Index	431
Subject Index	436

Preface and Acknowledgments

For more years than we imagined possible, we have been working through the development of this manuscript. We have survived it as friends. And, as those who have written together know, friendship that outlasts co-authorship is, in itself, worthy of acknowledgment. Each of us has endured moments of personal drama and loss. Each of us has stepped to the fore more than once to take on the task of moving us forward. And each of us has been enriched by this endeavor.

But, we also know that we owe gratitude to many others. Our families and personal support system of friends, mentors and task-masters have been there for us when the project threatened to overwhelm us. Our institutions have been supportive, and we have been blessed with great staff, terrific research assistants, and students who “test ran” the problems and provided frank and important feedback.

As this project finally comes into print, we look forward to sharing our ideas with students and teachers across the country. We hope we will continue to learn from each other about how to use the law to build community.

Special thanks

A special thanks to Matthew Mullins-Hall for the map that you will find at the back of this book and to Dr. Joseph Pierce, the cartographer who imagined the comprehensive maps you will find on the web page. Created with painstaking detail, Dr. Pierce’s maps provide a graphic portrayal of a realistic context for Milkweed Park. Special thanks also to our contributors, who met their deadlines, and patiently waited for us to meet ours.

We are grateful to our colleagues at the New York Clinical Theory Workshop; the International Applied Legal Story-Telling Conference; and the Workshop on Innovative Teaching, Other Legal Education Practices, and Work at the Intersections among Scholarship, Teaching, and Service, Association of American Law Schools Conference on Clinical Legal Education, who read our drafts and listened critically to test the reality of the fiction that is Milkweed Park.

We each owe a huge debt of gratitude to the clients and colleagues with whom we have had the privilege to work—some of America’s best and brightest hardworking visionaries who make the world a better place.

Online Resources

The text you have before you is not the end of the story. On Carolina Academic Press’s website at <http://www.cap-press.com/cedl> readers will find additional maps of Milkweed

Park and its environs, links to supplementary information, and the authors' bios. Teachers can also access the teacher's manual here.