ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am so thankful for the opportunity to publish a second edition of this book, and I am humbled by the depth of support and encouragement from my family and friends. So much has changed in my life since this book was first published six years ago. Through it all, my faith, family, and friends have sustained and strengthened me; for that, I will always be grateful.

First, I thank Lyda Whiteside, my mother and best friend, for being such a wonderful role model, advisor, and confidante. Posthumously, I thank Jeanne Banks, my maternal grandmother, for setting a life-long example of grace, elegance, and kindness that I aspire to emulate each day. I also posthumously thank Charles Banks, my maternal grandfather, for his strength, leadership, and strong organizational skills. They have all provided essential ingredients for the contents of each of my books, including this one.

Professionally, I thank Judge Thomas H. Newton, Charlotte Washington, and everyone else at the Missouri Court of Appeals for such a wonderful clerkship experience. I also thank my friend, Martin Wisneski, for creating and maintaining such an excellent website for my books. Additionally, I am grateful to the Jackson County Law Library Board for the opportunity to serve as the library's Executive Director, and to my colleague and friend, Dale Magariel, for her warmth and professionalism.

Finally, I am grateful to the libraries and readers around the world who have purchased my books, and to the many reviewers who have provided positive comments. I also thank everyone at Carolina Academic Press for always being such a pleasure to work with.
